Subscribers For S.V. Welfare Total Nears 500 New Families

Seventy-three more families joined the ranks of subscribers to this newspaper last week. The total of those who subscribed to aid the Spring Valley Welfare Assn. fund now stands at 495.

The project is nearing a close. There will be several more weeks of reports before the end, however. It is expected that the combined circulation of the Spring Valley Bulletin and the Lemon Grove Review, sister

Capt. Lee Tells Harrowing War Tale; Former Jap POW

A harrowing tale of his experiences as a prisoner of war was related Friday by Capt. Jesse Lee (USN R) and his vivid descriptions reminded members again that war is hell.

Capt. Lee, former manager of the L.G. chamber of commerce who now operates a travel service here, told of the loss of 1,200 Americans by Japanese cruelty, lack-of-care and bombing of his group that numbered 1,600 when it started.

The loss occurred during the time that prisoners were taken from Corregidor to Japan. Two Japanese ships on which the prisoners were transported were sunk by Allied bombers.

The meeting was attended by Assemblyman Dick Donovan who is back from Sacramento for a week-end trip. He said that he had named Herb Sichler, an area news writer and public relations man as his administrative assistant. (Story of Sichler's appointment elsewhere in this issue).

The DIMMER VIEW

'Urgent' is the Word For School Tax Over-ride Need

It takes some explaining to show why the over-ride tax issue scheduled by trustees of the Lemon Grove school district is so important.

It is made more difficult when taxes have become so onerous that the Federal Administration is pushing for a tax cut in face of a record deficit because opinion pulse-takers for Mr. John Kennedy are afraid that to do otherwise would breed a tax revolt.

As with many things in our existence, we cannot hang a "bad" label on everything to do with taxes.

Looking at the need in Lemon Grove district we should recall that the trustees, together with the administration's help, has held the tax-line since 1960.

In 1961 all funds were squeezed dry in order to budget a summer program. The summer program, teaching supply items and equipment were dropped in 1962 but urgings by taxpaying families caused the board to re-instate the summer program by tightening up the already spartan budget.

During this time requests for salary increases were put aside.

They have been put aside until now the starting salary in Lemon Grove is $250 a year less than adjacent districts and $500 under the State average.

During our visits to school board meetings we have not heard teachers grumble about the disparity. The complaint is that starting teachers, all other things being equal, will accept the better paid position.

That means that the better teachers quickly are absorbed into other districts often leaving a poorer choice for the lower paying districts.

At first it matters little. But as the years pass, we find that other districts have acquired the outstanding teachers some of which would have been available to this district. The percentage of outstanding teachers, therefore, will be lower here and our youngsters will be deprived of the opportunity of learning under consistently top quality instructors. The demand upon our students at high school and college levels will show the falseness of this type economy.

The tax over-ride will produce just enough money to equal the amount lopped off last year's budget ($100,000). Teachers salaries were not a budget item at that time. If the issue passes, school officials will have to decide what distribution can be made that will best satisfy the needs for school equipment and the need for meeting salary requirement.

Court Finds L.G. Woman Guilty On Medical Practice Charge

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Mrs. Ray (Mary Alice) Plain of 2765 Citronella st., L.G. has been found guilty on two 1961 counts of treating patients without a license to practice medicine.

Mrs. Plain's trial before a jury in Municipal Court in San Diego lasted 12 days.

Deputy District Attorney John C. Van Benthem, III, said two similar counts were thrown out of court when witnesses refused to testify. Witnesses who did testify, the deputy said, were E. J. Ferris, of S.D. and Mrs. Louise Nix, 10707 Jamacha, S.V.

Four witnesses refused testimony on grounds that such testimony would tend to incriminate them. One of the witnesses was a doctor who had treated Mrs. Plain.

Mrs. Plain was found in violation of a section of the Business and Professional code by the jury at 9 p.m. Monday. Judge Roger S. Ruffin set the time for sentencing as Feb. 13.

Van Benthem said that some of Mrs. Plain's "patients" were referred to her by the Rev. Donald Tinsley of the Four Square Church, at 2215 Imperial in Lemon Grove.

During the trial, the exhibit table was literally covered with sacks of empty Demoral bottles said to have been used by Mrs. Plain.

Demoral is listed as a "dangerous drug" available by prescription.

OLD CONGREGATIONAL BUILDING WILL BE AROUND FOR AWHILE

In the old days of Lemon Grove when Main st. was a busier street than Broadway the L. G. Congregational Church sanctuary at Main and Church was about the biggest building around. Through the years it gained distinction as a landmark because it was the first church established in Lemon Grove.

When the Congregational group lately moved away to new impressive buildings and a quite different type of architecture than they've been holding services in, some local old-timers wondered what would become of the beautiful if somewhat antique wooden structure.

Now it seems certain it will be around for awhile. This Sunday a new church here, the L. G. Christian holds its first service in the tall spacious sanctuary. The sound of religion again will echo from it.

FROZEN PLANTS CAN'T BE HURRIED BACK TO FULL PRODUCTIVITY

The University of California agricultural extension service reports that bad freezes like the recent one occur regularly at 10-year intervals in California.

One piece of advice the service gives is delay pruning of plants and trees until extent of injuries is determined. Cutting back now might mean amputating live branches, it is pointed out.

Further advice is to take it easy on the watering, since there are few or no leaves to do the job of transpiring. Also fertilizer won't do much good until after the plant or tree has revived.

Kim Fletcher Heads S&L Clearing Group

A treble rate of increase in the savings assets of San Diego Savings and loan associations during 1963 was predicted this week by Kim Fletcher, executive vice president of Home Federal Savings and Loan Assn. as he took office as the new president of the Savings and Loan Clearing House of S.D.

Fletcher, who has been clearing house vice president in the past year, succeeds Edgar L. Fickie, president of Silvergate Savings & Loan Assn.

Fletcher said he based his prediction on increased savings assets on the new interest rate of 4.8%, "which makes us competitive with Los Angeles and various other areas in the state. The rate of increase of savings and loan assets in 1962 was 7% in San Diego County," he said. "We justify our dividend rate increase from 4.6% to 4.8% in our confidence and continued faith in the growth of San Diego," he added.

by Everett DeRoche

The Mt. Miguel Matadors settled an undisputed basketball leadership over the Grossmont league as they defeated the Granite Hills Eagles 57-47 in the Granite Hills gym last Friday night. Over 1,200 spectators viewed the exciting game.

The evenly-matched teams tied the score nine times before Mt. Miguel—in the final four minutes—scored an 11-point lead over the Eagles.

The final buzzer brought an altercation between two opposing players. In a matter of seconds their team-mates joined the dispute. The players had their sportsmanship restored when the gym lights were turned out.

Highest scores for the evening were bracketed for Granite Hills by John Ryan and Bo Lundgren who scored 18 each. Larry McCollister from Mt. Miguel was next with 17. Attention also focused on the dazzling long shots of Doug Ashley and Bob Lockhead, also Matadors who scored 14 each. The victory was Mt. Miguel's fifth straight. HELIX THEATRE NEEDS $20,000 REPAIR JOB

Preliminary plans for needed revision of lighting of Helix High Little Theatre show an estimated cost in excess of $20,000 for what was originally considered to be a rather minor project. As a result, the Board of Trustees on Monday evening urged careful attention to paring the specifications in order to reduce the cost of the improvement. The project includes replacement of the dimmer panel, revision of stage lighting, and the illumination in the auditorium, because it is now being used for large class groups. Present wiring is undersized and the levels of illumination are too low. In addition, a new transformer service must be provided. Associated Superintendent Harold G. Hughes said that every effort would be made to hold the total cost of this project within the amount required to meet the instructional needs which exist.

LAST WEEK'S FATHER-SON BANQUET at La Mesa Junior High school was termed a success by all fathers and sons present. The speaker of the evening was boxing great Archie Moore, who not only gave an informal talk before the group but narrated moving pictures of himself in action against some of his opponents. Here Archie, sporting a short beard and mustache and holding a big boxing glove chats with Mark Brown, president of the Boy's Federation at the school during banquet activities.

Mothers To March For Dimes Tuesday

More than 13,000 Mothers Marchers are ready to canvass San Diego County, block by block, Tuesday evening, Jan. 29 seeking contributions to the March of Dimes, Mrs. Joseph Weitzen, the general chairman, said yesterday.

The gigantic project, which will run from 4 to 9 p.m., will be under the direction of 1500 area captains. Approximately 11,000 of the marchers will cover the City of San Diego.

Mrs. Weitzen said recruitment of volunteers started six weeks ago. Marchers "kits" have been prepared by a committee which includes Mr. and Mrs. William Daley, Mrs. Mitch Angus, and Mrs. Harlan Boucher.

Last year's effort accounted for more than $75,000—a figure she hopes to top, Mrs. Weitzen added.

Police reserves and off-duty firemen will pick up contributions for the captains and deliver them to a central location where they will be counted and processed.

Helen R. Cobb, county campaign chairman, expressed satisfaction at the progress of the drive to date. "Because of the construction of the Salk Institute for Basic Research at Torrey Pines, I feel it is everyone's responsibility to aid this cause," she said.

The National Foundation, which sponsors the March of Dimes, is the major contributor of funds for the construction and operation of the Salk Institute.

ary in China for several years and he will discuss his experiences there.

Peter DeGraff, councilman of the City of Chula Vista was a guest at the meeting and said he was "campaigning." His seat on the C.V. council is secure and he said that Donovan, against whom he ran for GOP Assembly nomination last year, was the proper person for the Assembly post, so it was assumed that his "campaign" is for the supervisor's post. His reply to questioners was "it is a possibility."

The club meets every Friday at noon at Michael's and invites men to attend. Membership is not necessary. There are no dues.

Dr. Amorita Treganza, now active in County girls' work said conflicting dates prevented her serving another year as 2nd. vice president. Edna Seal and Mrs. Leo Custeau were nominated as secretary and 1st. vice president respectively.

In other action, the Council named Mrs. Stanley Yanchul temporary co-ordinator of welfare and charged her with organizing a workable program for the remainder of the year. Dr. Treganza said she would work with Mrs. Yanchul's committee.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

UCS THANKS PAPER FOR AIDING CAMPAIGN

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank you on behalf of the community for the splendid support your paper gave the new United Community Services in its first campaign during the past year.

Although the campaign did not reach its financial goal, a great deal has been accomplished. The UCS has brought about unprecedented cooperation and mutual confidence. People, who in the past have cared only about one small part of the operation, their section of the campaign, have become concerned about the total operation.

We have built a firm foundation on which we can continue to build trust and confidence: in budgeting, in agency relations, planning, in campaigning.

It is unfortunate, that with the need for UCS services so heavy, this very situation, with many people unemployed, caused financial losses in the campaign results.

It was none the less a good campaign, in many areas much better than we could have anticipated in a year of economic uncertainty.

The influence of community newspapers in carrying the United appeal contributed much to the fine public acceptance of United Community Services of San Diego County in its first year of operation.

Thank you again for the invaluable public service you have performed through the columns of your newspaper.

Sincerely yours,
William Wagner, Chairman
Public Relations Committee
United Community Services of S.D. County

READER STATES THAT AMERICAN IS AMERICAN

Dear Editor:

I read in your paper lately, "Rosary Recited For Hungarian." Why do you write "Hungarian" and not "native of ... (and then the country)?"

I think the man in the story was an American because he was working at the Naval Repair Depot and they are taking only citizens. We learned at school—and I shall recite it exactly—the D.A.R. manual for citizenship:

Remember this—
You are not an Italian-American.
You are not a Spanish-American.
You are not a German-American.
You are not a Japanese-American.
You are not a Chinese-American.
You are not a Korean-American.
You are not a ...
YOU ARE AN AMERICAN.

PILOTING, ELECTRONICS CLASSES SCHEDULED BY ADULT SCHOOL

Grossmont Adult School has announced two more classes in its spring evening fare for adults. Piloting and Small Boat Handling will be at Helix High on Tuesdays beginning Jan. 29 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

More information is obtainable by phoning 463-8717.

A new class in Radio and Basic Electronics will start Feb. 5 at Granite Hills. It will be Tuesday evenings from 7-10 p.m. in room 132. Information on it is available after 1 p.m. at 442-2401.

Mrs. Yanchul Named To Council Welfare Post

The nominating committee could not come up with a slate of officers that would stick so the Lemon Grove Co-ordinating Council, Monday night, instructed its nominating committee to go back to work and produce another slate for the Feb. meeting. The first list did not jell.

John Jensen, retiring president, said that his duties on the Grossmont high school-college committees prevented another year of service as the president. Dr. Amorita Treganza, now active in County girls' work said conflicting dates prevented her serving another year as 2nd. vice president. Edna Seal and Mrs. Leo Custeau were nominated as secretary and 1st. vice president respectively.

In other action, the Council named Mrs. Stanley Yanchul temporary co-ordinator of welfare and charged her with organizing a workable program for the remainder of the year. Dr. Treganza said she would work with Mrs. Yanchul's committee.

Mrs. Norman Wollitz, who spearheaded a drive which raised $2,000 to help cover expenses of the Mt. Miguel band when it marched in the Rose Parade, asked the Council to request the County Board of Supervisors to set funds for defraying expenses of future winners. "It takes too much effort to raise the money among supporters of the band. Since the winning band represents all the county, the expenses should be considered a part of the Parade project, as is the float."

Members of the Council complained about the lack of progress the county is making on the Green Spot park and selected Mrs. Lee Nottingham to "put the heat" on the Park and Recreation department so that the facility can be made usable.

The Council also decided to study the road signs in the community as a safety project.

The Council meets the third Monday at L.G. jr. high at 7:30.

and a television newscaster whose forte was hard-hitting editorial type studies of the local and national scene.

Within his purview in Washington will come legislation affecting radio and television which makes his service on this committee important.

As a matter of fact his committee concerns most of the federal regulatory agencies including those which control the stock market, some sea port matters, civil aviation, oil and gas transmission lines, transportation, and freight rates.

In the seaport, gas transmission, transportation and freight rates departments he can serve the interests of San Diego well, the end-of-the-line reasons being completely obvious.

It was rumored during the past years that San Diego has been left out of defense contracts and other projects that have a helpful economic disposition because "the damn country votes Republican." If that is true, Van Deerlin could become the County's economic savior.

Whether the charge is true or not, the County suffered economically . . . and it is still suffering, just as if someone had cut off the aid that might have started defense employment.

Whether the charge is true or not, the county is suffering economically . . . and it will continue to suffer as long as layoffs continue in defense plants. It would be impossible to hang any governmental functionary with the charge that contracts were intentionally cut off here, but rumors are certainly strong . . . strong enough to suspect that the Democrats were seeking office on a platform of reprisals yet to come.

Congressman Van Deerlin was not a party to these threats or rumors so far as we know.

If the threats the real, we should be able to see a turn-about in our defense employment picture soon. If they are not, we should benefit anyway, with the Demos wanting to attract support by aiding the county through the first U.S. Congressman they've had in this area in years.

If the latter is a better evaluation, Van Deerlin's position on the committee regulating freight, transportation and ports may be the ingredient the county so badly needs to take its proper position in the commercial world.

Van Deerlin, though much of the opinion hereabout is to the contrary, may be able to provide added sinew our economy needs to get our show on the road again.

"... and Pass the Ammunition"

One of our better spies, the one who keeps us informed on such matters as Indian elephant population (1847), and the care and cure of front yard gophers, has supplied us with a slightly-tilted pitch for more church attendance based on nationally advertised cleaning products. The clip, author unknown titled "Soft Soap" asks:

"Are you soft-soaping God? — Duz you Dreft along with the Tide? Vel, now is the time for All to Cheer up.

"If you want real Joy, the Trend is to Breeze to church regularly on Sunday mornings but too many Woodbury their heads in their pillows or work in their yards like Handy Andy, forgetting that the Lord's Day is made for Les-Toil.

"Where our Lord reigns, the Dove of peace will never need to sent out an S.O.S. Don't trust Lux chances by neglecting worship on Sunday.

"Shall we Dial you and remind you of those Ivory palaces up yonder? This is not idle Bab-O. Worship will add Life-Buoy. So why not be faithful and Whisk yourself out of bed Sunday Morning, dress up Spic-N-Span and Dash like a Comet to God's house of prayer. Singing Praise will bring a Cleanser to your soul. If you Pledge yourself, Pride of conscience will be yours. "And your life will become full of Zest."

New Car For New Plates

No wonder new car sales are booming. Everyone who attempts to remove his old license plates to make way for the first new ones in seven years stops hammering on the rusted plate-holder bolt long enough to contemplate owning a new car with license plates installed by the dealer.

ROOM, BOARD FACILITIES NEEDED FOR STUDENTS

Local residents who are interested in supplying room and board for Grossmont College residents were encouraged to list their facilities with the Dean of Student Affairs.

Dean John A. Burdick said housing is needed for students planning to attend the college during the spring semester. Both foreign and native students are on the list seeking housing.

NEED CONTINUES FOR SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

Grossmont College officials said there is a continuing need for scholarship funds for students at the year-old institution.

While the costs of attending the junior college are nominal, officials said there are many deserving students who cannot afford even the modest average of $50 a semester for books and fees.

A number of service clubs in the area have responded to the scholarship need but there is a particular need at present for funds in hand with which to announce scholarship grants to June graduates of local high schools who would enter Grossmont College this coming fall.

DEANS AT MEETING

Grossmont College Dean of Admissions and Guidance Laurence Coons and Dean of Student Affairs John A. Burdick recently attended a student personnel meeting of the California Junior College Association held at Asilomar, Pacific Grove.

$250 CONTRIBUTED

The El Cajon Women's Club has contributed $250 toward music and art scholarships at Grossmont College.

THE MT. MIGUEL HIGH band made history for the school on New Year's Day by appearing in the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena. The Matador group was one of 17 U.S. high school bands invited to participate in the annual event and the parade represented the highest honor to date for this 123-member organization that has won many awards. The five band members here are (l to r) Annette Lowe, Ann Stewart, Bob Garcia, Carol Hensley and Jim Jensen.

ROSE PARADE PROVIDES UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE FOR MEMBERS OF MT. MIGUEL HIGH'S SNAPPY BAND

by Pat McGehee

The Mt. Miguel High School band had its biggest honor so far when it appeared in the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena on New Year's Day. And some 120 Lemon Grove and Spring Valley students who make up the group had an unforgettable experience when they went before a television audience and a crowd of 1 1/2 million.

Elaborate floats in the glamorous parade were made of millions of flower blossoms of many kinds. Bands served to add to their splendor.

The Matador band group, accompanied by director Larry Christianson went up to Pasadena the day before. Encountered was a scene buzzing with excitement about the coming day. Mt. Miguel students chatted with members of 16 other U.S. high school bands that had been extended invitations to appear in the Rose Parade. These and other participants were busy getting ready.

Waited All Night

That night the Mt. Miguel students noticed something they found amusing. Eager spectators, afraid they wouldn't get a seat the next day were "squatting" on the parade route. Some lit campfires.

According to cymbal player Annette Lowe, one of eight members of the band interviewed for this story, bleacher seats were going at $8.

New Year's Eve was so noisy and there was so much excitement everywhere, according to band major Carol Hensley that the band "rested rather than slept" that night. Snare drummer Jim Jensen, who stayed in the equipment truck with several other boys in the band said they were rudely awakened on New Year's Day at about 3 a.m. by Azusa High School pranksters ripping the school sign off the side of the vehicle. Prior to that the Azusa boys had decorated the three Mt. Miguel buses with 64 rolls of toilet tissue, Jim said.

The following morning found the band ready in plenty of time. Band president Charles Edens, who plays trombone said he thought several times about the arduous seven-mile parade route that faced the group. Later, after the march, he observed that the band was among the freshest looking units.

Eight Interviewed

The eight students interviewed had various comments to make regarding the Rose Parade. Snare drummer Bob Garcia said that since the Matadors won the honor of being in the event by victory at the San Diego State College Autumn Band Review and Homecoming Parade, he felt a responsibility to word people of the San Diego area "because the band was representing all of them."

Flute player Ann Stewart commented that she didn't believe what she heard about the Rose Parade until arriving on the scene. "It was fabulous," she said. Trumpet player Rae Colburne admired the organization of the event. He was impressed that it could be so big and also well-organized. He said he found the parade crowds courteous.

Karen Dahl, also a flute player was another one who became more excited about the whole thing after arriving in Pasadena. She said high school musicians from other parts of the nation were very impressed by the doings.

Played Two Numbers

The Matador band played two selections during the parade, each about 20 times, according to band major Hensley. Selections were "Jubilee," which is played much for football games and "Purple Carnival," a number that shows off the brass section and lives up to its flashy name.

Fronting the band on its march over the Pasadena parade route were Christianson, band major Hensley and baton twirler Francie DePietro, champion of California.

Between this trio and the band marched a row of girls who carry big letters that spell out "Mt. Miguel." The letters open and close.

When the band starts forward all legs move suddenly forward with military precision, the band starts playing and the Mt. Miguel letters open. The band has been rehearsed at length to perfect the simultaneity.

At the parade staging area the Matadors waited for awhile as the first units went into action. Then it was the turn of the Mt. Miguel band to step into the view of millions of on-the-scene and television spectators.

This was a memorable part of the day for band members as indicated by comments below in which they tell "the most exciting moment."

"Calm Before Storm"

Charles Edens: Before the parade began we were with other units on one of the Pasadena sidestreets that have big green her cymbals a leather loop on one broke.

The cymbal fell to the street and rolled away. Annette would have had to break formation to get it back.

Crowds Impressed

Karen Dahl: My exciting moment of the day was the reaction of the crowd at one point where the parade had stopped and the band had been waiting. The crowd, maybe a little bored for the moment was getting kind of noisy.

In a moment the parade ahead started moving and we got the signal. We stepped forward, began playing "Purple Carnival" and the Mt. Miguel letters opened like flowers—all in the sudden way that we have practiced it so much.

The crowd grew suddenly silent. From the mass of spectators lining both sides of the street a drawn out "oooooooo-hhhh" arose, as if they were witnessing something magnificent.

That made all the rehearsing worthwhile.

shade trees. The street was all but deserted. In a moment we would be a part of the parade and facing the biggest challenge ever. I could hear the crowds and as I looked down the peaceful street it was like the calm before the storm.

Bob Garcia: Just before the parade began we were standing ready in the staging area and Mr. Christianson ordered the drum section to play a cadence in honor of a high school band leader from Iowa. We played the cadence and it seemed like the first official thing we did in connection with the parade. The band leader looked real happy.

Ann Stewart: My most exciting moment was when the band first stepped off. It was scary. After we were moving it was easier.

Carol Hensley: After we were in the parade and we first stepped into view of the TV cameras was my most exciting moment. There was a two-block area in which TV cameras were set up. We really went into action during that time.

TV Cameras Thrilling

Jim Jensen: When we encountered the TV cameras was my most exciting moment. When I saw them I thought to myself: "I better shape up and look my best."

Rae Colburne: When we got to the TV cameras I sensed that my relatives in Canada were watching. That was my exciting moment.

Annette Lowe: Losing half of my cymbal was the exciting moment for me. I was embarrassed but it was funny.

Cymbal player Annette, one of three girls who play the big round disks that crash together at climactic moments in the music, provided one of the humorous highlights of the parade. After the band had progressed a mile and Annette was playing

Language Is Topic For Mt. Miguel PTA

Mt. Miguel PTA program will be provided by a "dark, tall and handsome man" Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the school, the women in charge of publicity announced.

What's more, he's unmarried, the informational source said. They think the program has something to do with languages, but the speaker is tall, dark and handsome.

Research proved that Robert Rexer, head of Mt. Miguel's language department will discuss curriculum. It also disclosed that he is indeed tall, dark, handsome and unmarried.

Mrs. Robert Beebe is president of the organization.

Donovan Names Sichler As His Head Assistant

State Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan, visiting the L.G. Men's club Friday, announced that he had appointed his campaign assistant, Herbert A. Sichler of La Mesa, to serve as his administrative assistant in the 77th District Office. A relative newcomer to politics, Sichler joined Donovan's campaign as press and public relations aide in the late stages of the primary campaign. "He displayed such capability that I asked him to stay throughout the campaign for the general election," Assemblyman Donovan said. "Besides handling press relations, he worked in the precinct organization and played a significant role in getting out the vote."

Sichler came to California from Columbus, Ohio where he attended Ohio State Univ., graduating with Bachelor and Master degrees in radio/TV journalism and public relations. He had previously served with the U.S. Navy on North Island as a Navy Journalist during the Korean Crisis. While still in college, he worked as a news-caster for two radio stations and wrote freelance articles for Columbus papers. Upon graduating he joined the public relations staff of Battelle Institute.
